

10 QUESTIONS

YOU SHOULD BE ASKING AS AN END CLIENT

There is much to consider in the run up to April 2020 when the IR35 rules will apply to the Private Sector. We've been here before in the public sector. Answer the questions below as soon as possible to get your business prepared.

1. Are you able to identify all of the PSCs delivering services to your business?
2. How are PSCs currently engaged? (Via agencies or directly)
3. How do you currently manage IR35?
4. Do you treat PSCs differently from a permanent employee?
5. Have you considered the potential financial impact of IR35 to your business?
6. Do you have a robust compliant supply chain?
7. Would your business be able to cope with the peaks and troughs of projects without the ability to hire contractors? How would you manage projects without contractors being readily available?
8. Would your team be prepared for the increased administrative burden? How will you manage the increased administration? Would you need more staff?
9. Would your business remain competitive in your marketplace if you were not prepared for the IR35 reform?
10. How would your business cope if your contractors left and went to your main competitor?
